This is an index to the City of La Crosse, Wisconsin Intensive Survey Report : Architectural and Historical Survey Project by Joan Rausch and Richard Zeitlin (1996). Ms. Rausch kindly supplied the Archives Staff with the manuscript in electronic form. From there, an index was created by using both automated and manual means. While no index is perfect, we hope that this index at least captures the majority of sites and subjects the public might find useful.

Assistance was provided by a number of La Crosse Public Library staff, namely, Doug Williams, Hayden Hauser, Jaime Dechant, and Bill Petersen. Other assistance was provided by John Florine of the city's Planning Department and Jim White, former La Crosse Public Library director.

Not every page was indexed! We did not index the introduction or methodology (pages i-13), maps, footnotes, or the index of references, or bibliographies. Just the main text was indexed. Please report errors and omissions to the Archives Room, La Crosse Public Library at (608) 789-7136. Thank you.

Note:

When using the index to search a site, please check both the subject and address listings to ensure a thorough search. For example, if you are searching the Rodolf Block, check the alphabetical listing for Rodolf Block and the address index for 100 So. 3rd St. once you have located the address in the text.

Not every page was indexed! We did not index the introduction or methodology (pages i-13), maps, footnotes, or the index of references, or bibliographies. Just the main text was indexed.
